Product information

The brand new Compac Dark Kamo rod bag collection has been designed to protect your precious rods and reels during transportation without compromising on practicality. The Compac 5 Rod Holdall Dark Kamo is designed for five mounted rods including reels. So you can set up and pack up again in no time at all!

They include all the features you could need as an angler - regardless of your preferred style of carp fishing or the type of water you prefer. There is a Compac Dark Kamo rod bag model that is perfectly tailored to your needs!

All of our rod bags are made from extremely robust and water-repellent material that can withstand all kinds of strain. Thanks to the generous padding and practical interior compartments, your rods and reels are optimally protected from damage and even the largest fishing reels and rod rings can be stored without any problems.

The Compac Dark Kamo rod bags are designed so that you can start fishing as soon as possible after arriving at the lake. A durable zipper gives you quick access to your rods, while landing nets, banksticks and similar accessories can be stored in three external pockets on the back of the bag. Two more rods - ideal for a marker rod and a spod rod - can also be stowed on the outside (either loose or in a rod sleeve), with pockets and straps providing a secure hold. This enables you to carry out a quick survey of a fishing spot almost instantly, without having to unpack half of your tackle!

The outer pocket for stowing leads or similar items should also not go unmentioned. This is particularly handy if you're using a lead clip system, heli-safe or similar, where the lead is removed at the end of the previous session when you reel in. Often you'll already have everything else stowed away, and they can be put into this zippered pocket so they're ready to go next time.
