Product information

Protect your cookware in the great outdoors with the Quad Connect windshield. It is ideal for preventing wind from extinguishing an open flame, cooling the temperature of food or blowing objects away. Thanks to its robust construction and ground spikes, you are always well protected. The double-hinged design of the "Windshield" for camping stoves allows you to create individual shapes for every cooking situation. In addition, the windshield is modular, so you can add more windshields if needed to cover larger cooking stations, such as our double stoves.

No worries about storage space: the Windshield's compact Z-fold design allows it to fold into itself and store neatly in the included carry bag, including a separate pocket for the rubberized feet.

Features:

- Black powder-coated stainless steel panels
