The Chameleon Ultimate 13' 3-6oz rod represents a top class fishing rod by using high modulus carbon fibers and prepreg materials with minimal resin content. It features a Slit Carbon Toray coating using spiral wrap technology for added stiffness and strength.

During the development of this blank, particular attention was paid to taper, wall thickness and material in order to achieve even better stress distribution and relief. This was achieved through the use of five guide rings (5G), resulting in improved casting performance. The use of innovative materials and technologies in the manufacturing process enabled the production of very light rods (385 grams) with a real casting weight range of up to 6 oz. With such performance characteristics of the blank, this rod can be used as a universal (ultimate) rod. You get a light and powerful rod with an extended range of effective blank action. It can be used as a spod rod, marker rod or as a workhorse in difficult fishing conditions. The handle combines practicality and aesthetics: it is made of Kevlar/carbon with spiral wrap to reduce hand slippage. The carbon bushing with Chameleon engraving completes the rod's impressive design.
