The Orient Rods Venus V2 is an excellent rod equipped with the BUTT DRIVE CONCEPT. In contrast to the Top Drive, it offers a more powerful butt section. With a unique, patented blank design in fir tree shape (registered in the WIPO Global Design Database DM/090 372) and made from the highest quality Japanese Toray carbon fiber materials with 55-66msi (40T+46T), this rod sets new standards in the angling world

A special 1.5K carbon fiber twill finish has been applied to further protect the blank and provide even more strength and rigidity. The all-stainless steel, impact resistant S-KL type 50mm guides with SIC inserts offer the advantage of allowing the use of the latest generations of extremely thin braided and monofilament lines while reducing the likelihood of knotting and overlapping

Thanks to the new, state-of-the-art two-sided impregnation technology, we achieve the best possible quality of prepreg - flexible and very strong at the same time. Orient carbon reel seats with original Fuji components underline the quality of this rod, which was primarily designed for sporting challenges and works with a wide range of leads (120 - 140 grams) and at very long distances.
