The Orient Rods Inventa fishing rod introduces a new series of fishing rods that integrate various innovative technical solutions and inventions. These innovations are not immediately recognizable, both visually and technologically, but will set these rods apart from all others in terms of features and design. The main goal of this series is maximum distance and comfort when fishing, with particular emphasis on minimizing the dependency between the stiffness of the blank and the casting distance. This makes this rod suitable for a wide range of physically different anglers.

To achieve this, maximum synchronicity in casting and landing has been achieved.

The main feature of the manufacturing process lies in the selection and preparation of the carbon fiber bundle for further winding together with prepreg. The result is a monolithic product that has higher deformation and strength parameters, stable properties and optimal structure and, of course, makes up the weight of the fishing rod.

A novelty in the design of the fishing rod is an original combined handle with a small EVA cone and a red carbon coating, which will provide aesthetic pleasure for a long time and give the whole product a glamorous look.

It keeps distances stable in all weather conditions with weights in the range of 120-128 grams.

This fishing rod allows you to increase the distance of your cast by +10-15 meters!

Features:

- Fir tree blank construction (WIPO patented)
- "FULL DRIVE/Orient Rods" rod action - Orient Rods classifier
- Blank material from Toray Japan 55-66 msi (40T+46T)
- An additional reinforcing carbon coating 1.5K Twill has been applied for extra stiffness and strength
- ALPS (S6-GSHRZG) guide rings

Product information

- Orient-Fuji reel seat with a carbon sleeve
- Orient Rods titanium cap with brand engraving
- Weight of the fishing rod: 375 grams; casting range: 200+ meters

The Orient Rods Inventa fishing rod combines advanced technology with an eye-catching design to provide anglers with unparalleled casting performance and comfort.
