Carp are addicted to it!

Our Belachan block consists of fermented seafood paste, which is rich in soluble proteins and amino acids. It impresses with its intense seafood smell and taste and can be used in a variety of ways. The highest quality level produced in the Far East!

Product information

Versatile application: The solid block can be grated and integrated into various types of bait such as pellets, particles, Boilies, method, spod or stick mixes.

High solubility: Belachan dissolves quickly in the water, effectively releasing the attractants and luring carp to the spod.

Properties:

- Intense smell and taste of marine shellfish
- High content of soluble proteins and amino acids
- Relatively salty and easily soluble
- Strong attracting effect for fish, especially for carp
- Possible applications:
- In stick mix as small chunks
- Add to groundbait
- Use in boilie mix

Additional tip:
Knead the belachan block around the hookbait or lead (gloves recommended) - simple but very effective method to increase the attracting effect

Boilie preparation: Stir the grated belachan into liquid egg and leave to stand for 10-15 minutes before processing the mixture.

Dosage: 50-100g per 1kg Boilie or groundbait mix
Quantity: 250g
