replaced at the same time.

The connection to the landing net pole has been extended to ensure even greater stability. In addition, the shape of the landing net opening has been widened and equipped with two reinforcing ribs for improved handling when landing nets.

The 70cm deep, rubberized landing net is made of high-strength nylon with a soft rubber coating, which means that it does not absorb water, dries quickly and is particularly gentle on the fish. The mesh size of 15x8mm ensures easy maneuvering in the water and reduces snagging.

In addition, the Snatch 2 landing net head is equipped with two EVA floating elements that provide additional buoyancy on the water.
