The NXG Buzzer Bar Bag has been specially developed to safely transport bite alarms and rod rests - even if they are already mounted on the buzzer bar. Suitable for 2- or 3-rod setups up to 15 inches in length (depending on the size of the alarms), this bag offers reliable protection for sensitive equipment thanks to its strong padding.

Product information

Inside there are adjustable fastening straps that can be used to securely fasten various buzzer bar sizes. A separate protective pad separates the alarm side from the accessory side to prevent scratches and damage. Six elastic loops for banksticks up to 15 inches are integrated on the back of this pad. In addition, an internal zippered compartment provides space for small items such as batteries or swingers. The robust construction with strong n-dura material, two-way zippers and carrying handle ensures durability and comfort.
