Product information

The RidgeMonkey APEarel ThermaPro Insulated Coat offers comprehensive protection against wind, rain, and cold, keeping you comfortably warm even during longer, static sessions. The combination of waterproof panels, synthetic-filled baffles, and robust ripstop material ensures excellent insulation and durability, while the well-designed features provide comfort and functionality.

The fully waterproof front and side pockets and internal chest pockets provide secure storage space. The hood is generously padded, infinitely adjustable in three stages, and features a stiff peak and high chin guard, allowing you to customize the coverage. Elastic inner hems and externally adjustable Velcro cuffs prevent cold and moisture from entering. The extended drop-back ensures that rain runs off reliably, and the dual tether adjustments allow for individual adjustment of the hem.

Thanks to the synthetic down filling, the coat efficiently retains body heat and ensures long-lasting comfort. At the same time, the full front zipper with integrated storm flap allows you to quickly put on or take off the coat to regulate the temperature as needed. The iconic but subtle RidgeMonkey APEarel branding completes the design and combines style with function.
