Product information

The RidgeMonkey APEarel ThermaPro Insulated Pants offer excellent protection against wind, rain, and cold, ensuring warmth and comfort even during longer, static use. The combination of waterproof panels, synthetic-filled baffles, and robust ripstop material makes these pants particularly durable and functional.

The integrated knee-high zippers with storm flaps allow you to quickly put them on and take them off over shoes or boots and ensure easy temperature regulation. Reinforced areas on the knees, seat, and ankles protect the heavily used areas from wear and tear. The Velcro-adjustable ankle cuffs adapt individually to your shoes and reliably keep moisture out. Two fleece-lined side pockets provide secure storage and warmth for your hands.

The synthetic down filling effectively retains body heat, while the waterproof ripstop material protects the pants from wind and rain. The subtle RidgeMonkey APEarel branding rounds off the design in a functional and stylish way.
