Model/Type: Bags & Net Float

The Carp House by Orient Rods is a high-quality weighing and holding bag designed specifically for the gentle weighing and short-term storage of carp. It is conceived as a true “fish house” and offers maximum safety for the fish—both during weighing and while temporarily kept in the water.

The bag is made of a particularly soft mesh material with large mesh openings, which allows for optimal water exchange. Thanks to its sufficient depth, the fish remains calm and stress-free. Strategically placed nylon inserts at the main contact points ensure dimensional stability and reliably prevent the fish from getting caught. Two full-length floats on the front and back keep the Carp House securely on the water’s surface and ensure the fish remains in a horizontal position.
