The inline version of the Flatliner Pear is designed for hard bottoms. The compact basic shape of this lead in combination with the two flat sides makes it the perfect lead for self-hooking.

Ideal areas of use for the Flat Pear Inline are sloping bank edges and the edges or backs of gravelly shallows. It is also perfect for river fishing. This lead is one of the best for short and medium distances, as it literally sticks to the bottom and therefore offers the carp a lot of resistance.
