Flavor: spicy

Are you looking for a perfect bait that is not only delicately spicy but also highly attractive and constantly sends out feeding signals to its surroundings? Then we have just the thing for you - our amino shrimp boilie, the Loki Spice, created by the Lord of Fire!

We have used many different spices to give this boilie its unique smell and taste. But we have deliberately avoided using hot spices such as chilli, as really hot substances tend to harm carp. Instead, we have used subtle curry notes which the carp love.

This boilie is full of aminos and creamy milk proteins and contains a large proportion of shrimp paste and liquid fish amino. This makes it highly attractive and constantly sends out feeding signals to the water environment. This makes it the perfect bait, even in difficult and heavily fished waters.

Product information

The boilies are fermented (amino acids broken down) and contain the highly effective DNA feeding stimulator. This means that this bait is irresistible to carp and they will return to it again and again.

Each of our boilies comes with matching pop-ups, boost liquid/dip and wafers. Everything you need to get the best out of your food presentation and make your next fishing trip a success!

You can find matching pop-ups, wafers, liquids, pellets etc. here: Watercraft Loki SP Range

We also offer attractive graduated prices on high range boilies (excluding special promotions):

- from 2pcs - 3% discount
- from 4pcs - 6% discount
