The Nash Pinpoint hook series relies on the latest steel technology called CARBIDE 617, which makes the hooks up to 50% stronger than all previous Nash hooks, but still much lighter. The hook point and twisting ability meet the high expectations of Pinpoint - extremely sharp and extremely aggressive.

The radical wide-gape shape is very stable and is perfect for really big fish and demanding fishing conditions. The unique shape of the hook bend with the kink ensures a secure hold even under extreme pressure. The Chod Claw combines the hooking properties of a straight hook point with the durability of a hook with a bent shape. The enlarged eye enables the use of large diameter leader materials.
