Throws every carp off course.

Making good things even better - this was our aim when revising the successful Catapult series. To ensure that the modified rods to play to their strengths, particularly in terms of casting performance, we have opted for a blank made from Japanese high-performance carbon with a semi-parabolic action. Thanks to the combination of high-quality SIC guides, robust FUJI DPS reel seats and solid split handle grips made of Duplon, the Catapult Carp CS-4 models have outstanding casting and loading properties.

The best thing is: because minor technical errors are compensated for by the great material, even inexperienced casters can achieve considerable distances.

In short: an all-round carefree package that, thanks to its spiral-carbon reinforced handle section, can defeat even the largest mirror angler or scaly fish.
